MISCELLANEOUS REMARKS.

The College Buildings.

The college buildings are at a convenient distance from the town of Greensborough to accommodate pupils (residing in the town,) in the various literary departments of the college; but students residing in college will have but little occasion to visit the town. The visiting of stores unattended by some member of the Faculty, is expressly inhibited. The expenditures of the young ladies are therefore entirely within the control of their parents and guardians; and the directions they may give on this subject shall be rigidly observed.

Apparatus.

The college is furnished with a handsome philosophical apparatus, for experimenting in chemistry, &c.

Literary Society.

The Sigourneyan Society, formed by the young ladies, for their mutual advancement in literature, have the present means of furnishing their library room with a handsome collection of works judiciously selected, and immediate steps will be taken to extend the collection.

Religious Services.

Religious services will be had in the College Chapel three times every Sabbath day, so that there will be no occasion to visit the town for public worship.

Health.

During the past year, the young ladies enjoyed unusual health. The cases of sickness which occurred, being comparatively few, and none of serious character.

ENTRANCE.

The scholastic year for 1851-2 will commence on the last Wednesday in July. The classes are then formed, and it is exceedingly desirable that pupils should enter at this time, as the delay of a few weeks may retard their advancement one year.

Students applying for admission to an advanced class, must be able to pass a satisfactory examination upon the preceding studies.

Parents having daughters fitting for College, will do well to see that they are thoroughly trained upon Spelling, Reading, Writing, Geography, and Arithmetic. Time spent upon the more advanced studies is frequently almost lost, as the course of instruction is such in the Institution, that in most cases they must be reviewed, and in many studied over altogether. We earnestly beg teachers of Preparatory schools to devote very particular attention to Spelling and Arithmetic; in the latter, drilling the pupils most thoroughly in the elementary rules, and in Fractions.

It is expected that the parents of every pupil entering the Institution, will have full confidence in the capability of the Faculty to direct her studies, and that she will be submitted entirely to the control of her teachers in this particular.

Evidences of Christianity.

The Classical Department embraces all the foregoing studies, together with the Ancient Languages and French.

The above nearly represents the course hitherto followed, but very great improvements are to be introduced throughout. It is believed that a more practical course can be devised, and a better set of Text Books selected. The Faculty of the Institution will seek to avail themselves of all the best aids in imparting a high intellectual training.

REPORTS.

A Report of the scholarship, punctuality, and deportment of each pupil, is sent to her parent or guardian at the end of every seventh week.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

There are two Literary Societies in College, each possessing the beginning of a library, to which additions will be made every year.

APPARATUS.

It is expected soon to make a very considerable addition to the apparatus at present used to illustrate the lectures in the department of the Natural Sciences.

DISCIPLINE.

Each pupil is expected to be present at every recitation, and to observe every rule of the school. Perfect punctuality, and perfect propriety of deportment, form the standard which the pupil is expected to strive to attain. There is no system of espionage maintained. Once a week each one makes a report of her own delinquencies, in the presence of all the Faculty and pupils assembled, and a record of these reports is preserved. They are thus thrown upon their honor. At the same time every effort is made to cultivate in them principles of candor and veracity, and to develope in them the power of self-government.

THE SABBATH.

Pupils are not permitted to visit each other on the Sabbath, and it is most earnestly desired that none be brought to the institution or removed therefrom on this day. Friends of the young ladies who visit them then, inflict a most serious injury. All the classes have weekly recitations on the Bible.

VISITS.

The young ladies boarding in College are permitted to receive visits from no one but their nearest relatives, unless in the presence of some member of the Faculty; nor are they permitted to visit families in town unless their parents specially desire it, in which case the Institution will have no responsibility.

BUILDINGS.

To the present noble edifice, the Trustees are immediately to commence the addition of other buildings, so as to give sufficient room for all the purposes of instruction. The rooms are all large and airy, four pupils only occupying each, unless it shall be temporarily, on account of the number of scholars becoming so great while the other buildings are in the course of erection.

ROOMS.

The pupils select their rooms and room-mates on the first day of the session, and in the order of their names, as they appear in the Annual Catalogue. It is important, therefore, that every pupil arrive on the evening before the opening of the school. Indeed, a week lost at the commencement of the session is more than a month in the middle.

DRESS.

To prevent unnecessary expense, and loss of time in devotion to dress, a uniform has been adopted :—Masarine blue worsted for winter, and plain white jackonet for summer. This uniform is perhaps better provided at the Institution. Young ladies may bring with them any plain clothing for ordinary wear. Silks, Swiss, gay patterns, flounces and jewelry, will be useless, and should be left at home. No jewelry is allowed to be worn at any time.

EXPENDITURES.

If parents will distinctly say how much their daughters may spend, and to what extent they may make accounts at the stores, their directions shall be strictly obeyed. If they give loose statements upon this subject, they may expect to find extravagant bills at the stores, and must blame no one but themselves. The Faculty are doing all they can to discountenance extravagance; but they can do little without the most decided co-operation of parents and guardians.

EXPENSES.

Board and Tuition for five months	- - -	$60
Music on the Piano, extra,	- - - - -	20
“ “ “ Guitar, “	- - - - -	10
Painting in oils, “	- - - - -	15
French, “	- - - - -	5
Drawing, “	- - - - -	5

A person paying $100 a session is entitled to board and tuition in all the studies of the course.

The graduation fee is $5.

The young ladies will be charged for necessary toweling and lights, except when provided by themselves.

The cost of repairs in each room is charged equally among all the room-mates, except where one assumes the expense of repairing all damages done by herself.

In all cases, one half of the regular expenses are expected to be paid in advance, and one half at the close of the session. Where it is not paid, the Trustees will expect a note for the amount bearing interest from date.

ENTRANCE.

THE scholastic year for 1852-3 will commence on the 15th day of July. The classes are then formed, and rooms and room-mates selected, it is exceedingly desirable that pupils should enter at this time, as the delay of a few weeks may retard their advancement several months.

Parents having daughters fitting for College, will do well to see that they are thoroughly trained upon Spelling, Reading, Writing, Geography, and Arithmetic. Time spent upon the more advanced studies is frequently almost lost, as the course of instruction is such in the Institution, that in most cases they must be reviewed, and in many studied over altogether. We earnestly beg teachers of Preparatory schools to devote very particular attention to Spelling and Arithmetic; in the latter, drilling the pupils most thoroughly in the elementary rules, and in Fractions.

It is expected that the parents of every pupil entering the Institution, will have full confidence in the capability of the Faculty to direct her studies, and that she will be submitted entirely to the control of her teachers in this particular.

No pupil ought to be brought to the Institution under fourteen years of age. All our plans are for older girls, and when those who are young and untrained enter the College, it is a hindrance to us and an injury to them.

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION.

THE following list of subjects embraces the course of study pursued in the Institution. Each pupil is required to have three regular studies always on hand. Her advancement in every case will depend entirely upon the proficiency she may make in each study. Diplomas will be conferred upon such young ladies as may stand an approved examination upon the studies of our regular course and upon one Ancient or Modern Language; provided they shall have been members of this Institution for at least one scholastic year.

It will be perceived that the time of a young lady's graduation will be fixed by her natural ability, her previous preparation, and her application to study.

Orthography, pursued throughout the whole course—Town's Books.

Etymology—Lynd's First Book, and Class Book.

Reading—An extensive course varied from time to time to suit the capacities, advancement, and particular studies of the classes.

Modern Geography—Mitchell's.

Ancient Geography and History—Mrs. Willard's.

English Grammar—Wells'.

Analysis of English Language—Greene's.

Compendium of English Literature—Cleveland's.

Rhetoric—Whateley's and Blair's.

Composition—Quackenbos' and Parker's.

Natural Philosophy—Draper's.

Philosophy of Natural History—Smellie's.

Chemistry—Draper's.

Arithmetic—Colburn's Mental, Davies School and University, and Thompson's.

Algebra—Loomis'.

Geometry—Loomis'.

Astronomy—Olmstead's.

History—{ Ancient History and Geography, Mrs. Willard's, and Pütz's.
Goodrich's United States.

Robinson's England.

An extensive course of history will be gone over in the reading classes.

Mythology—Keightley's.

Book Keeping—Northend's Common-School Book Keeping.

Antiquities—

Political Economy—Wayland's: Hart's Constitution of the United States.

Mental Philosophy—Upham's and Abercrombie's Works.

Logic—Whateley's.

Bible—	{	Chronology,	} Coleman's.
		Geography,
		History,
		Evidences—Alexander's Evidences of Christianity.	{	Wayland's Moral Science.
		Ethics—		Abercrombie's Moral Feelings.
		Natural Theology—Paley's Natural Theology, and Butler's Analogy.

LATIN COURSE—Bullion's Latin Grammar, McClintock's First Book of Latin, Bullion's Latin Reader, and selections from Cæsar, Virgil, Horace and Cicero, and other Latin authors, if desired.

GREEK COURSE—Bullion's Greek Grammar, Brooks' First Lessons in Greek, Greek Testament, Greek Reader, and Græca Minora. Pupils will be carried as much farther in this department as their Parents desire.

FRENCH COURSE—Bolmar's Levizac's Grammar, Meadow's French and English Pronouncing Dictionary, Manesca's French Conversations, Perrin's Fables, Telamaque, Charles XII, Louis XIV, Racine, &c.

ITALIAN COURSE—Vergani's and Ollendorff's Grammars, Bosut's Phrase-Book, Novelle Meralli di Francesco Soave, Crestomazia Italiana, Nuove Testament.

RESIDENT GRADUATES.

Those young ladies who have received a diploma from this College, and who retain or resume their connection with the Institution, in any of its departments, are styled Resident Graduates. There are several studies which may be very profitably pursued by our graduates in addition to the superior advantages offered in the Department of the Fine Arts.

REPORTS.

A Report of the scholarship, punctuality, and deportment of each pupil, is sent to her parent or guardian at the end of every seventh week.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

There are two Literary Societies in College, each possessing the beginning of a library, to which additions will be made every year.

APPARATUS.

It is expected soon to make a very considerable addition to the apparatus in the department of the Natural Sciences.

DISCIPLINE.

Each pupil is expected to be present at every recitation, and to observe every rule of the school. Perfect punctuality, and perfect propriety of deportment, form the standard which the pupil is expected to strive to attain. There is no system of espionage maintained. Once a week each pupil makes a report of her own delinquencies, in the presence of all the Faculty and pupils assembled, and a record of these reports is preserved. They are thus thrown upon their honor. At the same time every effort is made to cultivate in them principles of candor and veracity, and to develope in them the power of self-government.

THE SABBATH.

Pupils are not permitted to visit each other on the Sabbath, and it is most earnestly desired that none be brought to the Institution or removed therefrom on this day. Friends of the young ladies who visit them then, inflict a most serious injury. All the classes have weekly recitations on the Bible, and subjects connected therewith.

VISITS.

The young ladies boarding in the College are permitted to receive visits from no one but their nearest relatives, unless in the presence of some member of the Faculty, nor are they permitted to visit families in town unless their parents specially desire it, in which case the Institution will have no responsibility.

DRESS.

To prevent unnecessary expense, and loss of time in devotion to dress, a uniform has been adopted:—Masarine blue worsted for winter, and plain white jackonet for summer. This uniform is perhaps better provided at the Institution. Young ladies may bring with them any plain clothing for ordinary wear. Silks, Swiss, gay patterns, flounces and jewelry, will be useless, and should be left at home. No jewelry is allowed to be worn at any time.

EXPENSES.

Board, and Tuition in all the English branches, a session,	- - - - -	$60 00
Fuel, Lights, Washing, Room-rent, servants' attendance, a month,	- - - - -	2 00
Incidental tax for repairs, a session,	- - - - -	1 00

EXTRAS:

Music, on the Piano or Guitar, a session,	- - - - -	20 00
Use of the Instrument,	- - - - -	2 50
Drawing,	- - - - -	5 00
Studies in Heads, Crayon and Pastille,	- - - - -	10 00
Oil Painting,	- - - - -	20 00
Latin or Greek, or one of the Modern Languages,	- - - - -	5 00
Vocal Music,	- - - - -	3 00
Day-scholars for fuel,	- - - - -	2 00
Graduating Fee,	- - - - -	5 00

The regular fees are to be paid one-half in advance, and one-half, together with the bills for books, charges for extra studies, &c., at the close of the session, or interest in all cases to be charged.

No pupil is to be admitted for less than a session, unless one-half shall have expired before her entrance, and then she is to be charged from the first day of the month in which she entered. No deduction is made for absence, except in cases of illness. Former pupils returning after the opening of the session, to be charged for the whole session, if carried through with their classes.

It will be perceived that in the schedule of charges, the Board of Trustees insert two additional items. The one is a charge of $2 a month for Fuel, Lights, Washing, Room-rent, servants' attendance. These have hitherto been furnished for nothing. It is believed that every patron of the Institution will acquiesce in this change when he considers the following statements. (1.) The College is in debt and can afford to give nothing until relieved of its embarrassments. (2.) The public works advancing in our neighborhood have raised the price of provisions, fuel, and servants. (3.) No other Institution, affording equal advantages, has so low a scale of charges. (4.) An accurate account of expenditures and receipts in the Boarding Department shows that, at the present prices, the College must lose several hundreds of dollars annually. (5.) No parent would desire to have anything plainer than now afforded. There is no direction in which we can economise in this department, and do justice to our pupils. (6.) But arrangements have been made to curtail the expenditures of the pupils in other matters, so that the Faculty of the College feel quite sure that the total cost of keeping a young lady at the Institution hereafter will be less than heretofore, notwithstanding the necessary slight increase in the College charges.

EXPENDITURES.

Parents deposit in the hands of the President of the College as much money as they choose to have their daughters spend. Purchases will be made by the teachers, and the directions of parents will be strictly followed, except where parents allow their daughters to open accounts, and then the Faculty will have no oversight and no responsibility. The pupils will not be allowed hereafter to purchase jewelry, costly books, useless articles, and expensive presents. Every practicable method of reducing the expenses will be energetically prosecuted by the Faculty. An important part of a young lady's education is to know how to use money. As much attention as possible will be given to this department.

THE ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT

Is on the third Thursday in May. The Annual Sermon to the Graduating Class, is on the Tuesday evening preceding. The Address before the two Literary Societies, is on the Wednesday afternoon preceding. The Concert is on the Wednesday evening preceding.

GENERAL REMARKS.

The continued prosperity of this Institution of learning is truly gratifying to the friends of Female Education. The Board of Trustees and Faculty are happy to express their grateful sense of the appreciation of their labors, and are greatly encouraged to persevere in their efforts to establish an Institution in which Females may enjoy every facility for a thorough, practical and an accomplished education.

The scholastic year for 1857-'58 will commence on the last Thursday in July. The classes are then formed, and it is exceedingly desirable that pupils should enter at this time, as the delay of a few weeks may retard their advancement materially.

Parents having daughters preparing for College, will do well to see that they are thoroughly trained in Spelling, Reading, Writing, Geography and Arithmetic. Time spent upon the more advanced studies is frequently almost lost, as the course of instruction is such in the Institution, that in most cases they must be reviewed, and in many studied over altogether. We earnestly solicit teachers of Preparatory schools to devote very particular attention to the above mentioned studies.

DISCIPLINE.

Each pupil is expected to be present at every recitation, and to observe every rule of the school. Perfect punctuality and perfect propriety of deportment, form the standard which the pupil is expected to strive to attain. There is no system of espionage maintained. Tri-weekly, each pupil makes a report of her own delinquencies, to her Section Teacher, and a record of these reports is preserved. They are thus thrown upon their honor. At the same time every effort is made to cultivate in them principles of candor and veracity, and to develop in them the power of self-government.

RESIDENT GRADUATES.

Those young ladies who have received a diploma from this College, and who retain or resume their connection with the Institution, in any of its departments, are styled Resident Graduates. There are several studies which may be profitably pursued by our graduates in addition to the superior advantages offered in the department of the fine arts.

REPORTS.

A Report of the scholarship, punctuality and deportment of each pupil, is sent to her parent or guardian at the end of every seventh week.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Connected with the College are two Literary Societies, in which the young ladies assemble weekly for mutual improvement, and engage not only in extemporaneous debate, but also in essay writing. Periodicals are edited by the young ladies and read at their regular meetings. The Societies are furnished with valuable libraries, together with weekly and monthly Religious and Literary Periodicals and Papers.

APPARATUS.

The College is furnished with a valuable Chemical and Philosophical Apparatus, to which important additions have recently been made. Lectures are delivered throughout the course accompanied with illustrative experiments, thus affording unusual facilities for acquiring a practical knowledge of the branches studied.

DRESS.

To prevent unnecessary expense, and loss of time in devotion to dress, a uniform has been adopted:—Mazarine blue worsted for winter, and plain white Jaconet for summer. This uniform is perhaps better provided at the Institution. Young ladies may bring with them any plain clothing for ordinary wear. No jewelry is allowed to be worn at any time.

THE SABBATH.

Pupils are not permitted to visit each other on the Sabbath, and it is most earnestly desired that none be brought to the Institution or removed therefrom on this day. All the classes have weekly recitations on subjects immediately connected with the Bible.

VISITS.

The young ladies boarding in College are permitted to receive visits from no one but their nearest relatives, unless in the presence of some member of the Faculty, nor are they permitted to visit families in town unless their parents specially desire it, in which case the Institution will have no responsibility.

BOARD OF INSTRUCTION.

The large number of Instructors employed, enables the Teachers to devote themselves wholly to their respective departments.

RELIGIOUS EXERCISES.

The regular exercises of the College are opened and closed with appropriate religious services. The young ladies are required to attend Church once at least, on the Sabbath; and when the weather is inclement, the services are conducted in the College Chapel.

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION.

The following list of subjects embraces the Course of Study pursued in the Institution. Each Student will be required to pursue as many Studies as will profitably employ her time, and her advancement in every case will depend upon the proficiency she may make in each study.

EXPENDITURES.

Parents can deposit in the hands of the President of the College as much money as they choose to have their daughters spend. Purchases will be made by the teachers, and the directions of the parents strictly followed, except where parents allow their daughters to open accounts, and then the Faculty will have no oversight and no responsibility. The pupils will not be allowed to purchase jewelry, costly books, useless articles and expensive presents. Every practicable method of reducing the expenses will be energetically prosecuted by the Faculty. An important part of a young lady's education is to know how to use money. As much attention as possible will be given to this department.

No deduction is made for absence, except in cases of illness. Former pupils returning after the opening of the Session, to be charged for the whole Session, if carried through with their classes; in other cases, the pupil is charged from the first day of the month in which she entered.

COMMENCEMENT.

The Annual Commencement is on the third Thursday in May. The Examination of the Classes begins at 8½ o'clock in the morning of the preceding Tuesday.

The Trustees and Faculty will gladly accept and highly appreciate any contribution of Books, Minerals, Fossils, &c., to the Libraries and Cabinet connected with the College.
